PlanBoard for Omnis License Agreement

Maarsse, July 29, 2005

This is a binding legal agreement. By providing your contact information to Master Object Consultancy and by ordering PlanBoard for Omnis you are consenting to be bound by and are becoming a party to this agreement. If you do not agree to all of the terms of this agreement, do not place your order.

You (and your organization, if appropriate) understand and agree to the following:

1. Any purchase from Master Object Consultancy is subject to General Terms of Delivery as published at <http://www.masterobject.com/terms.html> and as deposited at the Chamber of Commerce of Utrecht, the Netherlands.
2. In this agreement 'PlanBoard' means any software, documentation or other licensed material ordered from Master Object Consultancy under the names "PlanBoard for Omnis Classic" and "PlanBoard for Omnis Studio" including future updates Master Object Consultancy may send you as a part of your order.
3. By purchasing PlanBoard you acquire the right to distribute PlanBoard to a known number of end users as part of a single application for which the name of the main library is specified in your order. Under Omnis Classic, this library must be locked before deployment. Under Omnis Studio, Master Object Consultancy classes must be locked according to instructions in the PlanBoard Developer's Guide.
4. You understand that you must purchase additional library deployment licenses if you use or sell PlanBoard with other application libraries than the one specified in your order or if the installed user base exceeds the number covered by the license(s) purchased.
5. Non-Disclosure: You will not make PlanBoard available to third parties without written consent from Master Object Consultancy.
6. Non-Compete: You will never sell planning or scheduling components to other Omnis developers unless they are part of a locked application that cannot be used for Omnis development.
7. Money Back Guarantee: If PlanBoard does not live up to your expectations you may destroy PlanBoard or return PlanBoard to Master Object Consultancy within 30 days of receipt. Master Object Consultancy will refund money paid for the order after receiving a written request along with a signed copy of this License Agreement.
8. The terms of this License Agreement do not expire.
